John S. Sayward,—Editor.

THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1847.

☞The report of the Superintending School Committee mentions the necessity of the city building the present season, three school houses of the first class. Many of our public schools are crowded beyond all healthful measure, and it is important that the City Council should take immediate measures to accommodate pupil's attending our public schools.

The education of the rising generation is one to which every citizen should feel a deep interest. It is hoped that all who do take an active interest in our schools will make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the wants of their respective districts and be able to make practicable suggestions relative to the same.

We learn that the joint standing committee, the City Council, on public schools, propose to meet day next week, probably on Saturday, to a public session for the purpose of hearing parties, in the several districts, upon the subject of school houses, in order that the committee may judge of the wants of the whole city, be prepared to recommend such appropriations as may be deemed advisable after a thorough examination of the whole matter.

We would suggest to those living in neighborhoods remote from any school house and who wish a school house in their vicinity to present themselves with statistics as to the number and age of the children in their respective districts—the probable cost of a suitable lot—all matters helping the formation of a correct conclusion upon the subject.

It will be well also for those who can do so, to appear and make suggestions for repairs and improvements of existing school houses and public grounds connected with them.

It is believed that the people in the vicinity of the several school houses may cooperate with the City Council in putting the houses and lots in good order and make them attractive and pleasant to the pupils and to all beholders. There is a habit of destructiveness in many of the youth of our city which may be overcome through the means of a closer and better discipline at school and at home.

It is said that in foreign countries monuments, plants and flowers may be left publicly exposed without receiving the slightest injury unless some Yankee appears, as was the case in Rome where one of them dug out the eye of a beautiful piece of sculpture, to keep as a curiosity. Monuments that he had visited the eternal city. With us in Bangor the case is vastly different, and a beautiful shade tree by the road side and an elegant shrub blooming for the gratification of every passer by, is in danger of being ruined by the Jack-knife or roughly plucked by rude hands.

There is an increasing taste in our people in the location of these beautiful objects, and we hope to see a reform in the taste and habits of the youth of our city. One means of accomplishing this will be, we think, in putting all our public buildings in good order, and in causing the pupils attending our public schools to acquire an interest in keeping them so.

☞We give in our columns to-day, the most important intelligence we have been able to obtain from the seat of war. Every item of intelligence from the Army is now sought for with avidity, particularly as our last accounts left the real state of affairs very uncertain and leave the command of General Taylor exceedingly critical. We hope to be able to publish within this something more definite, but this must depend on the contents of the mail to arrive between the time of this writing and putting our paper to press.

The accounts thus far, show that the spirit of the Mexican people has not been broken. Even their boasted successes in California, have disappointed expectations and the people there do not acknowledge the new government set up over them by our troops.

In Mexico we find that Santa Anna has a formidable, if not a successful force, which threatens to overrun and retake the positions we have already conquered.

At Vera Cruz the Mexican force has been increased, and the conflict there, at the last accounts, threatened to be obstinate.

We cannot but indulge the common confidence felt by all, that our arms will at length prove victorious over the Mexicans, but yet we cannot shut our eyes to the awful hazards, and the immense destruction of human life which such victories must cost. We cannot but feel how unjust the war is on our part, how unnecessary, and how opposed to all true American principles. The intelligence from the war-country and to cause a review of the causes of the war and the manner in which it has been conducted, and the purposes at which it aims and the probable results which will be produced.

☞The intelligence from Europe by the late arrival tends to allay the apprehension of an absolute deficiency of food for the country.—Prices of grain in general have declined. There are many in Ireland and France who are too poor to purchase bread, even at the low rates, and these can only be supplied by the hand of charity. This has been liberally bestowed by the people and government of Great Britain, and to an extent perhaps without example.

The British government have negotiated a loan of £8,000,000, that sum being required for the relief of private distresses in Ireland. The people seem disposed to be thankful that the case is no worse. The loan was taken by Messrs. Baring, and Messrs. Rothschild, in equal amounts, for a loan of £8,000,000, at the rate of 89½ per cent for three per cent stock.

We are informed that the regular Driver of the Buckport stage is sick and his place is supplied by a new hand. This will account for the complaint of our correspondent "X" in yesterday's paper. This line of stages is owned by Messrs Smith & Robinson of Bucksport two men who have built themselves up by a course of meritorious industry and great prudence.—They have proved themselves worthy of public confidence and this explanation should shield them from all blame.

☞We owe a thousand thanks to the Lady who yesterday sent us a rich fragrant and delightful little bouquet. It was a fine treat.

Webster Correspondence.

We find the following in the Cincinnati Atlas:—

CINCINNATI, Feb 20, 1847

Hon Daniel Webster—Sir: It is correctly reported, that soon after the close of the present session of Congress, business engagements will make it necessary for you to visit the city of New Orleans.

The undersigned wish to avail themselves of so favorable an opportunity to express to you the high estimation in which they, in common with their fellow citizens generally, hold your character and services. In behalf of themselves and many others, they pray your acceptance of an invitation to meet the citizens of Cincinnati at such time and in such manner as may be best suited to your convenience and feelings.

The undersigned take this occasion to assure you, that the people of Cincinnati will welcome your arrival in their city, which they that they will greet you as a friend—and as a public benefactor.

They recognise in you an early friend of popular Education. They find you votes recorded in favor of liberal appropriations to improve the Rivers and Harbors of the West.—They regard you as a friend and supporter of all those national improvements on land, and on water, which combine the interests and unite the hearts of distant portions of the Union.—They regard you as a friend of the Labor and the Commerce of the country—as an encourager of Agriculture, and the Mechanic Arts; they regard you as one, who has on all occasions, sought to secure the blessings of Peace, and to avert the horrors of War. They honor you, as the defender of the Constitution. They join in your efforts to maintain sacredly the bond of our National Union. And in all the deeds of the Republic, whether from aggression on our rights abroad, or from sectional prejudice and discord at home, they have been taught no better motto, than 'Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable.'

An early answer to the above will gratify and oblige. Your fellow citizens,

H Spencer,	Nath'l Sawyer,
N Longworth,	Henry Starr,
Thos B Stevenson,	N Wright,
Chas L Kellerd,	and 240 others.

Washington, March 5, 1847.

Gentlemen—I have received your letter of February 20th, inviting me to meet the citizens of Cincinnati, in the course of the proposed visit to New Orleans.

Among the letters to this effect, I see the names of those whom I have long known in public and private life, and of many others with whose general character and respectability I am not unacquainted. Such a request gentlemen, cannot be disregarded by any readily to compliance.

Intending to proceed to New Orleans by the Southern route, leaving Washington the latter part of this month, or at the beginning of the next, and to return by the way of the Illinois river and the Ohio, I shall of course be at Cincinnati, and happy to see you and other citizens who may desire to meet me.

Your letter, gentlemen, refers to subjects of the highest importance, Popular Education; Public Improvements in the Water and on the Land; the Encouragement of Labor and Industry, as the true basis of personal independence and responsibility; earnest endeavors to preserve Peace so dear to our country, and so conformable to the spirit of the age, as well as to the dictates of humanity, and religion; and the preservation of that happy Constitution which binds us together, and which has such rich blessings in store for us and our posterity, if we and they shall be wise enough and virtuous enough to maintain it.

Gentlemen, though conscious of having contributed but little to the promotion of these objects, I can yet say with truth, that from the first hour of my public life, I have never lost sight of them for a moment, as the great aim and end of my labors and efforts.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen with great regard, your obliged friend and fellow-citizen,

DAN'L WEBSTER.

Mr Calhoun.

The Washington Correspondent of the Boston Atlas, in a recent letter, speaking of Mr Calhoun, gives the following admonition to the Whigs:

There is one thing which I am anxious the Whigs should not do. Let them listen to no soft words coming from Mr Calhoun or any of his friends. He is the very incarnation of a crafty, shrewd, intriguing policy. He differs with the administration only to grow out of the blunders the latter has committed in its over-eagerness to sustain that policy. He sees the approach of the storm that is to rouse, and he is anxious to ward off—he will save slavery, if it can be saved. In the past of wise men to put no trust in his professions. For twenty-five years, the writer of these lines has been in the habit of watching his political movements. In the early portion of that time, they were dictated solely by personal aspirations. Since then, they have been founded upon a well constructed system, based upon the preponderance of the slave power, and influenced to perpetuate it. The deliverance of this country may be traced through all his appearent vagaries at this in the past, and it is the secret of his present game. Let no such man be trusted. I was disgusted to see the power of Mr Polk, and the Democratic party, so controlled with, than the insidious movements of that man. Let no man be trusted, who is likely to trust him. How apt was that it was he who poured into the ears of John Tyler, the venomous poison which worked the Texas iniquity.

☞We understand that Messrs. Jerome & Co. have received from the hand of Rev. Joshua Eaton, of Lincoln, forty-four dollars, the contributions of the citizens of Lincoln and the vicinity for the relief of the poor in Ireland.—This amount will be forwarded to the Portland relief Committee, to be expended in corn.

Iowa City, Feb. 25th, 1847.

A large meeting of the Whigs of this State was held at the County, on the 22d inst., composed of the most influential and leading men from all parts of the State, at which Gen. Z. Taylor was formally nominated as a candidate for the Presidency, in 1848.

Although in several sections of the country he has been previously nominated, yet I believe that Iowa is the first that has done so as a State. With this time-honored and war-worn veteran as our candidate I pledge Iowa as a Whig State in 1848.—[Cor. of the Rhila. Inq.

☞An advertisement in our paper to-day, reminds us of what we had otherwise become acquainted with, only very recently, that our late fellow citizen, ELISHA H ALLEN, Esq. of Bangor, has removed to Boston, where he pursues his professional pursuits. We are exceedingly sorry to part with Mr Allen. His very great ability as a lawyer is fully known to the people of this State, and his many warm personal friends. The various public stations which Mr Allen has held among us both in the Legislature of this State and in the Representative of the Bangor district in the Congress of the United States, have secured for him a very favorable reputation in our history. We had hoped that Mr. would not obtain his further services in his native State have increased. We express the general sentiments of thousands of our own citizens, when we wish him continued prosperity and happiness.—Portland Advertiser, 24th

☞Does the Editor of the Hallowell Cabinet intend to insinuate that Bucksport's great Cod fish was not all that a first rate Cod fish should be? The best fish mongers from Quoddy head to Portland light declared in favor of the fish, and that is enough. What does a farmer know about fish?

[From the N. O. Delta.]

A letter of the 9th ult., from Gen. Taylor, at Agua Nueva, thirty miles beyond Saltillo, states that he found the volunteers on his arrival at Saltillo somewhat disheartened, and having soon discovered the principal cause, inaction, he applied the remedy or its removal. He pushed his camp thirty miles nearer the enemy, confidence was restored, and the utmost enthusiasm took the place of lethargy and inactivity; the volunteers were anxious to meet the enemy—and as the old General says in his letter, "I won't disappoint them."

The reports in circulation as to the advance of the enemy, 15,000 strong on Saltillo are, beyond a doubt, true, and Gen Taylor, has by this time set out to fight and whipped the Mexicans again, at Agua Nueva, or has fallen back on Monterey. The great fear entertained by Gen Taylor's friends is, that should he fall back on Monterey, and a force of 15 thousand should advance upon that place, that being of no good to keep his whole force (5000) at Monterey, the enemy would be strong enough to detach a portion (say 5000) to act on the rear of operations, and by uniting with the force known to be under Urrea (some 3500 or 4000 men) effectually break up to detail, Camargo, Mata moras and the Brazos St. Jago, thereby cutting off all supplies from Gen. Taylor, and obliging him to subsist in a country even now drained by the demands of so large a force as we have maintained in the country around Monterey.

The Block Fort at Monterey may be made impregnable, and with even the small force under his command, Gen. Taylor could hold it against any force the Mexicans might bring against it, should he be compelled to retire on that position. Camargo is to be ably well fortified, and Matamoras has recently been fortified, under the direction and superintendence of that able Engineer, Capt. Lloyd Tidgman, who, at the request of Col. Drake, the commanding officer, laid out and superintended the construction of the defences. This Col Tidgman was enabled to do while remaining in that place owing the means of transportation to the United States.

Besides the large force advancing under Santa Anna from S. Luis Potosi, and that of Urrea by the way of Victoria, there is another force of the enemy, under that hydra headed monster Canales, who though a bragadocio, has a force under his command well calculated to give great annoyance along the Rio Grande.

This is the force referred to by Col. Morgan, as acting between Monterey and Camargo. A part on of it is under Crab jaw engaged in levying a tax on all goods brought to, and carried out of Matamoras, or trade s. Cavalvaji, with his bandit marauders, has established a cordon of posts for 30 miles around Matamoras, and in the absence of custom house buildings, holds his revenue court under some convenient tree.—Such is his audacity, that on the 14th ult. he met with his command of 100 men, at Punta Verdes, only one league from Matamoras, awaiting a stock of goods supposed to be coming from the Boca del Rio, by way of Burrita. The command, an officer at Matamoras has received at his disposal, and this Canalajaji is expected, marauds, and can levy his exactions with impunity, even within a mile of the city.

La Patria, the Spanish paper issued at New Orleans gives the following extract from a letter dated San Luis Potosi, Feb. 11:—

"Gonor reached here two days ago, so I have no great news to give you. By this time I suppose you have heard that Gen Santa Anna left the city on the 24 inst., on his way to Saltillo, Monterey, Camargo and Matamoras, in order to attack the enemy with the energy and decision which became an intrepid and valiant soldier.

His army number from 21,500 to 22,000 men, and the cavalry, in particular, is superior to any that has ever been seen in this country, as both men and horses have been picked with the utmost care. His infantry is all the line, well disciplined and equipped, and selected from the largest number of men he had collected here.—We must now expect to see the result of this great expedition, which will decide the future operations of the country.

Santa Anna also takes with him, from 50 to 60 pieces of artillery of different calibre, and 12 pieces or more to be sent from Tula to join he commands in chief. At the commencement of this month, 28 American prisoners were brought in here, and the rabble would have stoned them to death had they not been placed in the barracks until the fury of the rabble was calmed down."

Letter from Major Gaines.

The New Orleans Picayune of March 11th, says:—We take great pleasure in publishing the following letter from Major John P. Gaines, written from San Luis Potosi on the 10th ult., since which date, the Major, with the other prisoners, has left for the city of Mexico:—

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, Feb 10, 1847.

I write you from Saltillo, informing you of my movements up to about the 10th inst.—With the three companies under my command, was stationed alternately at Agua Nueva and the Pass o Palomas, both outposts. For more than one month after my arrival at Saltillo there was constant rumors of the approach of the enemy, and the great advantage they had over us (being in their midst) made my duties extremely arduous. They had every means of knowing our precise condition from day to day whilst we found it very difficult to find out anything concerning them. I explored the country in the direction by day and by night, and for about thirty days never slept with my clothes off, and most generally dressed.

On the 17th of January I left my camp at the Pass with Capt C. M. Clay, Lieut Davidson and thirty chosen men; taken equally from Myers's Pennington's and Clay's companies, and travelled about eighty miles towards this place on the Potomac road, and finding no enemy and hearing nothing of them, I bore westward and passed the mountain into the plain, through which the Agua Nueva road passes, which I struck between the haciendas Incarnacion and San Salvador. At this place I met with many Mexicans who gave me the most positive assurances that to their knowledge there was no Mexican Army in the neighborhood, and it being late in the evening of the third day of my reconnaissance, and my men being very tired and hungry, I determined to go to the hacienda, about ten miles distant, and spend the night.

At this place I met with Major Borland, of the Arkansas cavalry, with about forty men, who had been three days, awaiting the arrival of an additional force, to enable him to attack a detachment of the enemy, two hundred strong, then said to be at the town of Salido, about forty miles distant. Our United forces were considered equal to the undertaking and on the following evening, a little before night, we started on this enterprise. After travelling about twelve miles we met with some Mexicans who assured us there were no Mexican soldiers at Salado, and that the distance was at least sixty miles. We had no guide, and the night was very dark, and a tremendous storm was coming up. These facts, together with the information given us of the non-existence of the enemy in the neighborhood, determined us to return to the hacienda. We continued our route one or two hours longer, we should have met Gen Minion with 3000 cavalry.

On the following morning we found ourselves completely encompassed by this force and a little after sunrise their bugles sounded on all sides, which we answered with our solitary bugle and three cheers twice told. The troops approached on one side, and a white flag on another. We required their troops to retire previous to any conference, which being complied with, the flag approached, and the result was, that in one hour we would answer their summons to surrender. We had sixty-six men and six officers, with about twenty rounds of ammunition each—and water, no bread, no meat—They said they had 3000 men present, and the demonstrations around us left but little room to doubt its truth substantially. The result of our deliberation was, that we would hear a proposition from them, an answer to which they proposed to send on an officer of equal rank with myself, whilst I despatched to their camp. This being done, I rode out, received the proposition of the general, returned and stated I went to our officers, who agreed to them; again returned to the general, and about 2 o'clock we surrendered as prisoners of war—the terms being that we were entitled to most liberal and extended privileges to which prisoners under any circumstances are entitled.

We left the hacienda Incarnacion the day after our capture, for this place, and on the evening of that day Capt Mc Clure of the Arkansas volunteers made his escape and has not since been heard of. He is the son of Major Arthur Henderson, formerly of the Pearl street House, Cincinnati.

His escape was the occasion of some occurrences on our route which it is unnecessary for me to repeat here, but which were far from agreeable to us.

On our route here we met the renowned Gen. Santa Anna, in a large and very elegant carriage drawn by eight mules, one behind, two in front, and four in the centre. I had a short conference with him, in which, after asking a few questions concerning our army and generals and the purpose of my expedition to Incarnacion he gave me assurances of good treatment while prisoners, told us we would be sent from this to the city of Mexico and he hoped, shortly, to our own country.

I am, very respectfully,

JNO P. GAINES

To the letter is appended the following postscript, with not a signature and written by another hand. We presume the information it contains is entirely authentic:

Major Gaines and party (9) left for the Capital on the 15th February. The officers were supplied with horses for the road, and will doubtless be allowed their parole on arrival.

[Correspondence of the Express.]

Important from California.

Washington, March 10.

An interesting letter dated "San Diego, Head Quarters," and written on the night of the 23d of November, 1846, has just been placed in my possession. It was written by a distinguished officer in command, and addressed to Hon Stephen Douglas, of the U. S. Senate.—The official despatches to the Navy Department will give you, perhaps more details, but from this letter, I learn some things there omitted as for example the complete failure of the expedition to Cahuenga under Cap. Stockton, as it amounts to that.

The letter says that the "subjects in California have rebelled and that the command can not get at them to put down the insurrection."—The enemy keep at a respectful running distance that it is said they can neither be shot at nor secured. Some forces only have been secured. Capt Mervine of the frigate Savannah, is charged with having committed a faux pas in failing to overtake a body of the enemy pursued by them. The "rebels" as they are called, had a four pounder with which they retreated as fast as Capt Mervine advanced.

If he had kept on a little longer, it is said, he would probably have taken their gun and driven them away instead of retreating himself, although the devil himself could hardly hope to catch one of those well mounted Californians. It is said again that some of the volunteers fought like tigers, but must be humored like children. Some of the "care devil" deeds are emphasized, and in one of the expeditions two of the enemy were killed. The Californians provokingly surround the head quarters, though at a safe distance, and look down from the eminences they occupy, but yet will run at every pursuit. They are well mounted, thoroughly acquainted with the country, fleet on foot, and ready for murder or mischief of any sort.

I have also seen a letter from Captain Stockton, which confirms the substance of all this intelligence, and makes some private comments upon them, which I do not, I am not at liberty to publish. I may say, however, that official declarations, like all else in the annual documents, as to the complete, quiet, and unmolested possession of California and New Mexico, are entirely set aside by such intelligence as has been received in the city for the few days past.

FOSTER'S FOUNTAIN COMPOUND seems to be the only article for the Hair, in which the public has placed implicit confidence. Its powerful and peculiar efficacy in the reproduction of the hair, aside from its virtues in the cure of all diseases of the scalp, must, no longer than any disinterested person, give it a precedence with the ladies and gentlemen over every other article before or since introduced to the toilet.

Nothing is like it in appearance or composition. It is adapted pathological to the cure of all diseases of the hair and skin. An essay with all its practice develops, showing the symptoms of the scalp and hair, with directions, accompanied with each bottle. Sold by Messrs. A. F. Gull and Geo. W. Ladd, Druggists, Bangor.

Important and later News from the Rio Grande

The Picayune has dates from the Rio Grande to the 6th inst. Dr. Jarvis, of the U. S. Army, who arrived in New Orleans, is the bearer of despatches from Col. Curtis, in command at Camargo, to the Government at Washington. Dr. Jarvis left Camargo on the 2d inst. There had been nothing received there from Gen Taylor for several days.—The rumors which prevailed were brought through by Mexicans, and were of the most contradictory character.

Memoranda of Dr Jarvis.

I left Camargo on the morning of the 26th February to return to Monterey in company with a train of 70 wagons laden with supplies and escorted by a company of Kentucky cavalry, under command of Capt. T. F. Marshall, and a detachment of 23 men belonging to the 2d Dragoons. We had not proceeded five miles when an order arrived for our return in consequence of instructions just received by express, which passed us on the road, directed to the quarter-master at Camargo from the quarter-master at Monterey, which were received from Col. Whiting, assistant quarter-master general at the headquarters of Gen Taylor, directing, for the future, that all trains be stopped, ascertain if information had been received that a large force of the enemy's cavalry say four or five thousand, was in or near China; and that Caleereyta was already occupied by them. These particulars are contained in a hasty note from the quarter-master at Monterey, February 22d, and terminating it, with the remark "look out." With Col Whiting's instructions also came the order of Gen. Taylor, dated Agua Nueva, February 21st, the last one received up to the time of my leaving Camargo, March 2d. This order is dated at the bivouac of Gen. Taylor calling for reinforcements, addressed by Capt. Montgomery in his note, as mentioned to him by Col. Whiting.

On the morning of the 27 h another express arrived at Camargo from the quarter-master at Monterey, stating in a note, that he had sent another off the day before, but apprehended that he may have been cut off, and, as he understood from Col Whiting, but there were important despatches from Gen Taylor calling for reinforcements, he had sent another to advise of the fact.

About 2 o'clock the same day another express arrived with a note from the same officers, dated Monterey, 11 o'clock A. M, February 23d saying no express had just arrived from Saltillo, bringing information that Santa Anna had sent a summons to Gen. Taylor, demanding his surrender. Santa Anna stated that he had twenty thousand men, and that if Taylor did not surrender he would cut him to pieces. The note concludes: "The express which left after dark last night says that Taylor was giving the Mexicans hell."

This may be the last official communication received all the subsequent information being derived from the Mexicans. I might here remark that a note was received from the last mail or at Monterey, at the same time with the last communication of Capt Montgomery, which gave the additional particulars that Gen. Taylor had left Agua Nueva to Saltillo, which I should infer also from the letter of Capt M., although he does not distinctly state so. The Mexicans say he lost six pieces of cannon at the former place. He moreover states that Gen Marshall had gone to the pass of Los Muertos with a view of fortifying it, and large quantities of ammunition had been despatched from Monterey to Saltillo.

The detachment of the 3d Ohio Regiment under Col. Morgan and Lieut. Col. Irving—the former having seven companies at Cerralvo and the latter three at Marin—it was greatly feared at Camargo, had been cut off by a large force of 2000 men who are said to have occupied the latter place on the afternoon of the 23d. Lieut Col. Irving order No 11, is said to have left Marin the morning of the same day it was occupied by the enemy, marching towards Cerralvo, with a view of forming a junction with Col Morgan and then proceeding to Monterey. Col Morgan left Cerralvo on the 24th, having destroyed, in obedience to the endorsement of the same general order, all such provisions and supplies as he could carry with him. He must in consequence have encountered the enemy on his route, as they had already, as we have seen above, occupied in force Marin, lying between him and Monterey.

Moreover, a train of 120 wagons, which left Camargo about the 15th or 17th, loaded with provisions, clothing, &c., is said to have been attacked on the 24th, or near Rinolis, lying between Cerralvo and Marin, and, with the escort, captured. This intelligence was brought in by an American or Mexican mule-driver, who was with the train and escaped at the time of its capture. He says the Mexicans charged at the same time both in the front and rear of the train. After the firing, which was of short duration, ceased, he cautiously ventured from out of the chaparral, with a view of finding some of his comrades. He discovered the Mexicans busily engaged in unharnessing the mules from the wagons, and seeing none of his own party, made his way back, carefully avoiding the road to Camargo.

A hundred Mexican stories were in circulation at Camargo when he left in reference to the battle going on between Gen Taylor and Santa Anna. The latter already continued three days, with considerable loss on our side, but much greater on that of the Mexicans. Subsequent accounts announce Gen. Taylor having fallen back upon Monterey. The day I left Camargo a letter was received from the Alcalde of Mier, saying that the Mexican troops had entered that town 24 miles distant from the former place, and had made him prisoner in consequence of his endeavoring to secrete stores left behind in that place, when Lieut Col McCook evacuated the place. Col. Curtis intended to march with his regiment for Monterey the moment Col. Drake, with the Third Indiana Regiment, arrived from Matamoros to relieve him.

The latter officer was awaiting the arrival of the Mississippi regiment, which I met on the river a short distance below Matamoros on his way up. This regiment and six companies of the Virginia regiment under Lieut. Col Randolph, which arrived at Camargo the day I left it at place are the only volunteer regiments arrived on the Rio Grande, all the other regiments that had arrived having been sent below to Lobos. From what source Gen Taylor is to expect relief it is impossible to say. Every soldier, and in fact douglie or three times that number constitute the garrisons at the different depots, are actively necessary for their defence and not one can be spared. Information can hardly reach Gen Scott in time for him to march a division to his relief.

A messenger has been sent from Camargo to Tampico demanding reinforcements from Gen Taylor's division of the army. It would seem that Gen T. was looking to Tampico for aid, and by the way of Victoria.

A train of one hundred and twenty wagons had been captured by the Mexicans. They murdered the teamsters and the escort of 25 men. They have also captured a train of 60 wagons, though nothing definite is known as to the disposal of teamsters and escort. They have likewise captured 100 pack mules, loaded with sutler's goods.

Dr. Wm Bailey—Dear Sir—I have for many times considered of my great indebtedness to you for having been, as I well know, through your recommendatory restored to a perfect state of health, and I have reasons forever to remember your valuable extract of Sarsaparilla, through the use of which I have been freed of a severe disease upon the liver, and a general torpid state of the whole system, and dyspepsia. I have from time to time tried various remedies, without any visible good effect; now I am happy to say that your Sarsaparilla has cured me. I am happy to hear that you are actively engaged as ever in the sale of your valuable medicines.—perhaps I should say blessings—I would be more appropriate, for surely no one has done more to alleviate the ills that flesh is heir to than yourself. It is even possible for both misfortunes to disappear from the face of the earth I should deem your Sarsaparilla a panacea for every complaint. But of one thing I am confident that the time will come when your name will be breathed forth in accents of gratitude from every hill, vale, hamlet and city throughout our country; when there will be a general thanksgiving for the benefits derived from your valuable extract of Sarsaparilla.

I have within one week heard a reformed Drunkard of our town proclaiming, in terms of the highest commendation, the extraordinary virtue of your Sarsaparilla. He had himself known it to cure people of his acquaintance, who had been pronounced incurable by physicians. I am, my dear sir, Respectfully yours

GRAEFENBERG PILLS.

THERE ARE THE MOST CONCLUSIVE REASONS why that class of Medicines denominated "PATENT," should be more the means of incalculable and enduring blessings to the human family Su pose, for example, that a high order of talent long and ... tion, and great medical learning and experience are brought to bear upon the invention and manufacture of PILLS. Why may not this long devotion to this department be crowned with the same success attends the sacrifice of similar talents and to him ... things! There is no reason, and it is but the ... dictate of the simplest common sense to say ... that this produce would be as perfect in articles as made by man Twenty five years devotion to any subject will give a man of ability the mastery over This labor has been bestowed upon the

and they are presented to the public with claims unparalleled in the whole history of medical science ... that has been in tracing the history of all great inventions that they were not made or discovered at any ... of what may be termed THE FULNESS OF TIME. The mariner's compass, for instance, was not used until the "fullness of time" it was needed The loadstone always lay at man's feet, but he never knew what a wonderful and unerring guide was treasured up in its silent bosom, until the Dismal appointed time drew near, when distant continents and islands were to be unveiled So it held it now transferred to the bosom of the adventurous sailor, enabling him to launch far away upon unknown Oceans, instead of timidly sailing with sight of familiar marks

So with the discovery of the New World, upon whose shores was to guide this Great Nation to a power, a glory, a mission far beyond the conception of the wildest fancy The Old World had reached its highest destiny the "full as of time" drew near for the revelation of the New, and behold the immortal Columbus from the forecastle of his dismal boat and leaky vessel, found it So with the invention of printing, of steam, of the magnetic telegraph Each of these had its own "fullness of time," marked distinct and Providential

IN SEPT ALL SCIENCE HAS GREAT PHILOSOPHICAL PRINCIPLE IS EQUALLY MARKED Most beautiful are the illustrations and proofs of this which are to be found in the history of the world We can trace them from the most distant centuries down to the present hour, all of them teaching us the open and giving us the hope that something yet better to heal human maladies is at hand

That this principle is as true of Medical as of Physical science, is clearly shown in the

which is furnished gratuitously to all who with it. The

Graefenberg Pills,

are deemed by all who have tested them to be an unobservable advance upon all other medical combinations and discoveries hitherto known, and they are announced as

THE GREAT REMEDIAL TRIUMPH

The inventor of these Pills rests his theory upon no school nor dogma of ordinary medical teachers, Planting himself upon the revelation of the

ALMIGHTY CREATOR,

THAT

requires that it in disease and health patients make pure the life current that keeps through their veins and arteries, before they can hope for a PERMANENT cure Relief they can give them, and so can others, but fight and ... years health must come from a pure blood

But a most important discovery has come in So countless are the impostors which are practised upon the public by pretenders, and so numerous and boastful are the ... medicines advertised, that he reader may hesitate to believe that this Great Remedy A word, therefore, on this point

In the first place, READ THE GRAEFENBERG GAZETTE. No matter how sceptical you may now be, that paper will convince you Thousands have been convinced on every State and Territory in the Union and among them distinguish statesmen, jurists, clergymen physicians, and others The bare enumeration of their names would fill this page Let the reader send to the most convenient agency for a copy of the Gazette, which can be had

GRATIS!

In the second place, TRY THE PILLS It will cost but the merest trifle, and will not secure you to a medicine which you will desire a blessing to the end of your days A thousand the first impressions of the advertisements which they would reject to stay the tender hand the limits of this advertisement forbid But let any one discreet, with the following diseases make trial of the Graefenberg Pills and they will be PERMANENTLY CURED

Asthma ... Flatulency,
Bilious Complaints, ... Fluor Albus, or Whites
Blotches, ... Gastric Fever,
Boils, deficient action in, ... Green Sickness,
Breast Pains, ... Gravel,
Catarrh ... Heartburn,
Constipation, ... Headache,
Cough of Pregnancy, ... Hysterics,
Costiveness, ... Incontinence of Urine
Diarrhœa ... Indigestion,
Difficult Breathing, ... Inflammation of the stomach,
Dyspepsia ... Inflammation of the stomach,
Dropsical Consumption, ... Jaundice
Dysentery (specific) ... Liver complaints,
Determination of Blood to the Breast, ... Low spirits,
Ear Ache, ... Menstruation, Suppressed or painful
Eruptions, ... Nervous disorders,
Epilepsy ... Neuralgia,
Female Weakness, Nervousness, Irritability, ... Rheumatism,
Intermittent, Remittent, ... Stomach, various diseases,
Fever and Ague, ... Worms

In all bilious or chronic diseases these Pills such even the most wonderful triumph HERE THEY DEFY COMPETITION And as the surest ability of the Armour can constitution is to these diseases, they are aptly styled

The Pill o' the New World.

Their wonderful efficacy in these complaints arises from their power to OPEN THE PORES CLEANSE AND PURIFY THE STOMACH AND BOWELS MAKE THE BLOOD HEALTHY AND CLEAR AND TO GIVE TONE AND STRENGTH TO THE SYSTEM

It is impossible within the limits of an ordinary advertisement to give to readers the reasons for the most extraordinary success and rapid spread of these Pill Reasons do exist which have abundantly satisfied the minds of thousands in this country, and among them the well established Physicians, Jurists, Clergymen, and prominent citizens, males and female

NUMEROUS CERTIFICATES of the wonderful efficacy of these Pills might be presented, but a certificate of less than one hundred days is not worth the paper on which it is printed A few days is sufficient to prove the correspondence of the Company, will however, be given

FROM THE

Voice of the Empire, the enterprise of the day Its magnitude will entitle it to an historian It is destined to effect a complete revolution in the medical world

FROM A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE IN WESTERN N YORK have sold a number of boxes to the citizens of this place They have given entire satisfaction, and they do not hesitate to become the most popular Pill of the day

FROM TOLEDO, OHIO

Having heard so much, and witnessed two or three cases treated in the mode directed by your Journal, I have thought it important you should have an agent in this place In my opinion, more good can be done in this section of country by the introduction of the youngest children, on account of the mildness of their operation, with excellent effects
